Adventists Given Formula For Happy Christian Home

Members of Torrance Seventh-day Adventist Church, many of whom are currently attending the giant 58th Annual camp meeting of Southland Adventists at 4100 Imperial Hwy., Lynwood, last night heard a six-ingredient formula for a happy Christian home given at the religious convocation.

Local church members attending the nine-day convocation, heard Dr. Arthur L. Bietz, Los Angeles, noted psychologist and minister, say that understanding, sharing, trust, flexibility, adventure and humor—with God as the center—constitute the ingredients of greatness in the home.

CITING THE need for a sense of humor in the home, Dr. Bietz said in a speech to some 7,000 persons, "Nothing is quite so stifling as a home full of people who cannot see the ridiculous side of life." He spoke on "God speaks To The Home."

"If you cannot look at yourself and laugh at your fantastic mistakes, then you are apt to be very unhappy," the churchman said.

A group from Torrance Adventist Church led by Pastor Glenn Goffar heard Dr. Bietz say that "Nothing is more important to a successful home than keeping God as the center of all activity."

"A RECENT study reveals that the man who attended church until his late teens is twice as good a marriage risk as the one who stopped at the age of 10," Dr. Bietz said. "Irreligious marriages are five times more susceptible to divorce than are those with a religious context."

The local residents attending the session will also attend a 6 and 7:30 p.m. session of the convocation today. The session will continue through Saturday, with thousands of Southland Adventists and visitors in attendance.

SERVICES of the local Adventist church, located at 1610 Acacia Ave., will be transferred to the religious convocation site for the second week on Saturday at 9 and 11 a.m. Local members will join in Sabbath School and worship services during the morning with two special afternoon meetings planned.

Youth of the local congregation will attend special services for various age groups in buildings and giant tents located on the convocation site. Special speakers will bring messages geared to the various age groups.
